Among the ten best beaches in Spain ... and among the most important beaches in the Canary Islands. Both the sports newspaper As and the Spanish-language portal of National Geographic certify the attractiveness of the iconic Las Palmas de Gran Canaria beach for visitors. Both publications broadcast on these dates two articles in which Las Canteras is not missing.

These summer references in two of the main specialized headings, National Geographic in nature, science, travel and adventures, and the daily AS in sports information, encourage travelers to visit the city and one of its best known tourist icons. In this sense, Tourism of the city council of the capital has focused its efforts in the first half of the year to promote the capital and capture the holiday public in which has traditionally been its offseason, summer.

National Geographic stops at a dozen essential beaches on the map of the Archipelago, in an article entitled "The best beaches in Canary Islands". The photo of a surfer in the evening of La Cícer illustrates the commentary of this reference portal, which emphasizes how "more than a beach, an icon. An arenal representative of the character of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria.

It is, "adds the article," one of the best urban beaches in Spain. Its golden sand and the Barra de las Canteras provide a very special charm. The emblematic reef protects the sand from the waves and currents of the Atlantic and provides ideal space for the practice of snorkeling.

National Geographic also points out, in the case of Las Canteras, that "its natural beauty must be added to the services and facilities of the first with which it is endowed."

Next to the beach of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria appear in this article the Beach of Nogales, Puntallana (La Palma); Charco Verde, Puerto Naos (La Palma); Charco Azul, The Border (El Hierro); Cala de Tacorón, La Restinga (El Hierro); Beaches in the Dunes of Corralejo, La Oliva (Fuerteventura); La Calera, Valle Gran Rey (La Gomera); Playa del Inglés, Valle Gran Rey (La Gomera); Beach of Papagayo, Yaiza (Lanzarote); Playa de El Médano, Granadilla de Abona (Tenerife); And Benijo Beach, Taganana (Tenerife).

Among the best beaches in Spain and Europe for the daily AS

For its part, the sports newspaper AS disseminates in its web edition the article entitled "The 10 best beaches in Spain", which also refers to Las Canteras, taking as a reference the ranking of Trip Advisor, "made among users of all the nationalities".

De Las Canteras stresses that it is "the fourth of the Spanish list and the number 14 at European level". And he adds that the "principal urban arenal main Las Palmas de Gran Canaria" is not only one of the beaches that "can be enjoyed all year round thanks to the warm climate of the island", but also "it is a great reserve Marine".
