"Every now and then life surprises you with unexpected places, those that completely overflow your expectations ... and Las Canteras is one of them" ... So describes El Pachinko to the famous beach of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria, in a post in which emphasizes the charms of the city for families who travel with children, and, among other things, can practice in this enclave activities such as Kayak and Snorkel.

The Pachinko is, undoubtedly, one of the blogs of reference in Spanish speaking for the fans to travel with the smallest of the house. The web of Pau García Solbes and his own family (his partner, But, and his children, Ten and Oriol) devotes a wide content to the iconic Las Canteras. "We would never have suspected an urban beach hiding as many secrets as this one and so it is not surprising that it is considered one of the best in the world," he says.

"Good weather almost all year round, fine golden sand under your feet and unparalleled fauna and flora a few meters from the shore. With such a privileged context, it is logical that all the native ones adore this place and the visitors take a beautiful memory" emphasizes the blog. Its authors, residents of Alicante, also state that "discovering the city of Las Palmas from the sea by kayak is a plan we recommend to anyone, even if you are traveling with young children like us. Do not cut yourself, "they recommend," because it is a very simple excursion in which you do not need any previous training and the experience is really wonderful. "

A tourist resource that offers the signature Salitre Sport, with its Clear Kayak or transparent boats. "This aquatic activity," they point out, is not intended for people with great physical conditions, but for people eager to learn about the very special environment that exists on the beach of Las Canteras and enjoy a somewhat different perspective of the city of The Gran Canarian palms".

The little ones in the family of Pau "were dedicated to hallucinate with the multi-colored funds of the Quarries and to try to identify to some of the fish that from time to time peeked under the canoes". Vision accompanied by "very interesting explanations about the diverse fauna and flora that inhabits the funds of Las Canteras".

Family snorkeling in Las Canteras

Similarly, El Pachinko recommends another experience on this beach that also could enjoy the drivers of the blog: Snorkel, also in family. "Although we have traveled to paradises like the Caribbean or Southeast Asia, we do not remember any urban beach with so much underwater life just a few meters from the shore like Las Canteras. We do not exaggerate a bit, "they say flatly.

"The natural protection of the bar and legislation that banned fishing in Las Canteras has generated an area with unrivaled underwater biodiversity to be an urban environment," they add, not without affecting the 150 marine species that can be found in these funds , Thanks to the tourist product offered by the company Snorkeling Experience: an eco-tourist resort that seems to have convinced these well-known travel writers.

"If it is easy to fall in love with Las Palmas de Gran Canaria from the sand, that passion will become much more intense when you discover the incalculable treasures that are hidden beneath the surface," they say, captivated by the city and its most popular beach. "Both transparent kayak and snorkeling are two great activities to enjoy in Las Canteras as a family. Experiences that you can not miss if you travel to Las Palmas de Gran Canaria with children. Do you dare to live them? Surely you do not regret it, "they conclude, in an extensive article, which, in addition, links to the tourist website of the capital of Gran Canaria, lpavisit.com.

Pachinko.com is one of the leading travel websites in Spain, and one of the most recognized blogs when it comes to family travel.
